Introduction

- [1] The hearing resulted from a complaint into the conduct of the Respondent and a Board resolution under regulation 10 of the Complaints Regulations¹ to hold a hearing in relation to building work at [Omitted]. The alleged disciplinary offence the Board resolved to investigate was that the Respondent failed, without good reason, in respect of a building consent that relates to restricted building work that he or she is to carry out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervise, or has carried out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervised, (as the case may be), to provide the persons specified in section 88(2) with a record of work, on completion of the restricted building work, in accordance with section 88(1) (s 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act).

Function of Disciplinary Action

- [2] The common understanding of the purpose of professional discipline is to uphold the integrity of the profession. The focus is not punishment, but the protection of the public, the maintenance of public confidence and the enforcement of high standards of propriety and professional conduct. Those purposes were recently reiterated by the Supreme Court of the United Kingdom in *R v Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales*² and in New Zealand in *Dentice v Valuers Registration Board*³.
- [3] Disciplinary action under the Act is not designed to redress issues or disputes between a complainant and a respondent. In *McLanahan and Tan v The New Zealand Registered Architects Board*⁴ Collins J. noted that:

² R v Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales [2011] UKSC 1, 19 January 2011.

⁴ [2016] HZHC 2276 at para 164

“... the disciplinary process does not exist to appease those who are dissatisfied The disciplinary process ... exists to ensure professional standards are maintained in order to protect clients, the profession and the broader community.”

- [4] The Board can only inquire into “the conduct of a licensed building practitioner” with respect to the grounds for discipline set out in section 317 of the Act. It does not have any jurisdiction over contractual matters.

Evidence

- [5] The Board must be satisfied on the balance of probabilities that the disciplinary offences alleged have been committed⁵. Under section 322 of the Act the Board has relaxed rules of evidence which allow it to receive evidence that may not be admissible in a court of law.
- [6] The procedure the Board uses is inquisitorial, not adversarial. The Board examines the documentary evidence available to it prior to the hearing. The hearing is an opportunity for the Board, as the inquirer and decision maker, to call and question witnesses to further investigate aspects of the evidence and to take further evidence from key witnesses.
- [7] In this case the Board decided that no further evidence was required. If a Respondent provides further evidence or submissions the Board takes them into account. If they request an in-person hearing this is given consideration.
- [8] The Respondent was engaged to install a new roof on a residential dwelling under a building consent. The work was restricted building work for which a record of work must be provided.
- [9] The work started on or about 10 June 2018 and came to an end on or about 11 December 2018. A record of work dated 11 December 2018 was provided to the owner on 15 May 2019 after a complaint had been made to the Board about its non-provision on 1 May 2019.
- [10] In a response to the complaint dated 17 May 2019 the Respondent stated:

[Omitted] has complained and threatened our Company throughout this Contract. He has stated he will engage an Independent Builder Surveyor to assess work carried out.

I have told [Omitted] I was satisfied with my staff's workmanship, however why would I provide documentation until the outcome was settled?

[Omitted] states he has asked me several times for Record of Works, this is untrue. He emailed our Company on 15th and 24th April 2019.

⁵ Z v Dental Complaints Assessment Committee [2009] 1 NZLR 1

On 14 May 2019 [Omitted] emailed withdrawing his threats to engage an Independent Building Surveyor and asking to issue LBP and Warranty which I sent on 15 May 2019 at 9.40am.

- [11] The response was supported with copies of correspondence between the Complainant and Respondent. Included was an email from the Complainant which stated:

I will also be getting an independent building surveyor to assess your patch work done to the Eastern roof plane that was installed short as I have not received any roofing warranties and your LBP sign off. If found defective I will be claiming to you REPLACE it at your cost.

- [12] A later email indicated that the matter at issue was a measuring issue resulting in the roof possibly being short. An email from the Complainant dated 14 May 2019 then stated:

Please ignore my comment re having an independent building surveyor check over your works as I am confident that your work would meet standard as you have 35 years experience and you're a licensed building practitioner in roofing.

Please issue your lbp forms and warranties immediately. These are supposed to be issued on completion of works which was last year. Using my comment in email dated 15th April is a febel excuse for not having provided the required documents and the 15th of April is still over 20 weeks after completion.

- [13] In a further response to the Complaint dated 25 June 2019 the Respondent's stated:

1: Yes the reason I had not provided the Record of Works, as workmanship was in question. So in my opinion the Contract was not complete!

2: As stated in my letter to you dated 17 May 2019, [Omitted] on - 14 May 2019, withdrew his complaint and said he was happy with the job. I then on 15 May 2019 provided [Omitted] with Sign-Off and Warranty, which I presumed he would forward to the Home Owner and Council?

- [14] In a submission to the Board dated 6 September 2019 the Respondent reiterated his earlier submissions and stated:

[Omitted] states he was unhappy with the job so I deem the Contract incomplete. We issue Record of Works on completion.

Board's Conclusion and Reasoning

- [15] The Board has decided that the Respondent has failed, without good reason, in respect of a building consent that relates to restricted building work that he or she is to carry out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervise, or has carried out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervised, (as the case may be), to provide the persons specified in section 88(2) with a record of work, on completion of the restricted building work, in accordance with section 88(1) (s 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act) and should be disciplined.

- [16] There is a statutory requirement under section 88(1) of the Building Act 2004 for a licensed building practitioner to provide a record of work to the owner and the territorial authority on completion of restricted building work⁶.
- [17] Failing to provide a record of work is a ground for discipline under section 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act. In order to find that ground for discipline proven, the Board need only consider whether the Respondent had “good reason” for not providing a record of work on “completion” of the restricted building work.
- [18] The Board discussed issues with regard to records of work in its decision C2-01170⁷ and gave guidelines to the profession as to who must provide a record of work, what a record of work is for, when it is to be provided, the level of detail that must be provided, who a record of work must be provided to and what might constitute a good reason for not providing a record of work.
- [19] The starting point with a record of work is that it is a mandatory statutory requirement whenever restricted building work under a building consent is carried out or supervised by a licensed building practitioner (other than as an owner-builder). Each and every licensed building practitioner who carries out restricted building work must provide a record of work.
- [20] The statutory provisions do not stipulate a timeframe for the licenced person to provide a record of work. The provisions in section 88(1) simply states “on completion of the restricted building work ...”.
- [21] The question in issue in this matter is when did completion occur.
- [22] The Respondent’s position was that completion occurred on 14 May 2019 when the Complainant stated that the workmanship was no longer being questioned. A record of work was provided the next day, on 15 May 2019.
- [23] Countering this is the fact that the roof was finished on 11 December 2018 and the Respondents statements that he stands by the quality and compliance of the roof. It is also noted that a complaint was made on 1 May 2019 and it was only after this that a record of work was provided.
- [24] It should also be noted that a record of work is not a statement as to the quality or compliance of restricted building work. It is simply a record of who carried out or supervised what. It is not to be confused with a producer statement.
- [25] The Board has decided that completion occurred on 11 December 2018. As a record of work was not provided until 15 May 2019 the Board finds that the record of work was not provided on completion as required and the disciplinary offence has been committed.

⁶ Restricted Building Work is defined by the Building (Definition of Restricted Building Work) Order 2011

- [26] Section 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act provides for a defence of the licenced building practitioner having a “good reason” for failing to provide a record of work. If they can, on the balance of probabilities, prove to the Board that one exists then it is open to the Board to find that a disciplinary offence has not been committed. Each case will be decided by the Board on its own merits but the threshold for a good reason is high.
- [27] In this instance there was an ongoing dispute. Whilst not specifically raised as a good reason the Respondent should note that a record of work is a statutory requirement, not a negotiable term of a contract. The requirement for it is not affected by the terms of a contract, nor by contractual disputes. Licensed building practitioners should now be aware of their obligations to provide them and their provision should be a matter of routine.

Penalty, Costs and Publication

- [28] Having found that one or more of the grounds in section 317 applies the Board must, under section 318 of the Actⁱ, consider the appropriate disciplinary penalty, whether the Respondent should be ordered to pay any costs and whether the decision should be published.
- [29] The matter was dealt with on the papers. Included was information relevant to penalty, costs and publication and the Board has decided to make indicative orders and give the Respondent an opportunity to provide further evidence or submissions relevant to the indicative orders.

Penalty

- [30] The purpose of professional discipline is to uphold the integrity of the profession; the focus is not punishment, but the enforcement of a high standard of propriety and professional conduct. The Board does note, however, that the High Court in *Patel v Complaints Assessment Committee*⁸ commented on the role of "punishment" in giving penalty orders stating that punitive orders are, at times, necessary to provide a deterrent and to uphold professional standards. The Court noted:

[28] I therefore propose to proceed on the basis that, although the protection of the public is a very important consideration, nevertheless the issues of punishment and deterrence must also be taken into account in selecting the appropriate penalty to be imposed.

- [31] The Board also notes that in *Lochhead v Ministry of Business Innovation and Employment*⁹ the court noted that whilst the statutory principles of sentencing set out in the Sentencing Act 2002 do not apply to the Building Act they have the advantage of simplicity and transparency. The court recommended adopting a starting point for penalty based on the seriousness of the disciplinary offending prior to considering any aggravating and/or mitigating factors.

- [32] Record of work matters are at the lower end of the disciplinary scale. The Board's normal starting point for a failure to provide a record of work is a fine of $1,500. The Board does not see any reasons why it should depart from the starting point.

Costs

- [33] Under section 318(4) the Board may require the Respondent "to pay the costs and expenses of, and incidental to, the inquiry by the Board."
- [34] The Respondent should note that the High Court has held that 50% of total reasonable costs should be taken as a starting point in disciplinary proceedings and that the percentage can then be adjusted up or down having regard to the particular circumstances of each case¹⁰.
- [35] In *Collie v Nursing Council of New Zealand*¹¹ where the order for costs in the tribunal was 50% of actual costs and expenses the High Court noted that:

But for an order for costs made against a practitioner, the profession is left to carry the financial burden of the disciplinary proceedings, and as a matter of policy that is not appropriate.

- [36] The Board notes the matter was dealt with on the papers. Ordinarily costs for a hearing would be in the order of $1,000 but the Board has reduced this to $500 being an amount the Board considers is reasonable for the Respondent to pay toward the costs and expenses of, and incidental to, the inquiry by the Board.

Publication

- [37] As a consequence of its decision the Respondent's name and the disciplinary outcomes will be recorded in the public register maintained as part of the Licensed Building Practitioners' scheme as is required by the Act¹². The Board is also able, under section 318(5) of the Act, to order publication over and above the public register:

In addition to requiring the Registrar to notify in the register an action taken by the Board under this section, the Board may publicly notify the action in any other way it thinks fit.

- [38] As a general principle such further public notification may be required where the Board perceives a need for the public and/or the profession to know of the findings of a disciplinary hearing. This is in addition to the Respondent being named in this decision.

- [39] Within New Zealand there is a principle of open justice and open reporting which is enshrined in the Bill of Rights Act 1990¹³. The Criminal Procedure Act 2011 sets out grounds for suppression within the criminal jurisdiction¹⁴. Within the disciplinary hearing jurisdiction the courts have stated that the provisions in the Criminal Procedure Act do not apply but can be instructive¹⁵. The High Court provided guidance as to the types of factors to be taken into consideration in *N v Professional Conduct Committee of Medical Council*¹⁶.
- [40] The courts have also stated that an adverse finding in a disciplinary case usually requires that the name of the practitioner be published in the public interest¹⁷. It is, however, common practice in disciplinary proceedings to protect the names of other persons involved as naming them does not assist the public interest.
- [41] Based on the above the Board will not order further publication.

Section 318 Order

- [42] For the reasons set out above, the Board directs that:

Penalty: Pursuant to section 318(1)(f) of the Building Act 2004, the Respondent is ordered to pay a fine of $1,500.

Costs: Pursuant to section 318(4) of the Act, the Respondent is ordered to pay costs of $500 (GST included) towards the costs of, and incidental to, the inquiry of the Board.

Publication: The Registrar shall record the Board's action in the Register of Licensed Building Practitioners in accordance with section 301(1)(iii) of the Act.

In terms of section 318(5) of the Act, there will not be action taken to publicly notify the Board's action, except for the note in the Register and the Respondent being named in this decision.

- [43] The Respondent should note that the Board may, under section 319 of the Act, suspend or cancel a licensed building practitioner's licence if fines or costs imposed as a result of disciplinary action are not paid.

Submissions on Penalty, Costs and Publication

- [44] The Board invites the Respondent to make written submissions on the matters of disciplinary penalty, costs and publication up until close of business on 23 December 2019. The submissions should focus on mitigating matters as they relate to the penalty, costs and publication orders. If no submissions are received then this decision will become final. If submissions are received then the Board will meet and consider those submissions prior to coming to a final decision on penalty, costs and publication.

- [45] In calling for submissions on penalty, costs and mitigation the Board is not inviting the Respondent to offer new evidence or to express an opinion on the findings set out in this decision. If the Respondent disagrees with the Board's findings of fact and and/or its decision that the Respondent has committed a disciplinary offence the Respondent can appeal the Board's decision.

Right of Appeal

- [46] The right to appeal Board decisions is provided for in section 330(2) of the Actⁱⁱ.
