Introduction

- [1] The hearing resulted from a Complaint into the conduct of the Respondent and a Board resolution under regulation 10 of the Complaints Regulations¹ to hold a hearing in relation to building work at [Omitted]. The alleged disciplinary offences the Board resolved to investigate were that the Respondent failed, without good reason, in respect of a building consent that relates to restricted building work that he or she is to carry out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervise, or has carried out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervised, (as the case may be), to provide the persons specified in section 88(2) with a record of work, on completion of the restricted building work, in accordance with section 88(1) (s 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act).

Function of Disciplinary Action

- [2] The common understanding of the purpose of professional discipline is to uphold the integrity of the profession. The focus is not punishment, but the protection of the public, the maintenance of public confidence and the enforcement of high standards of propriety and professional conduct. Those purposes were recently reiterated by the Supreme Court of the United Kingdom in *R v Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales*² and in New Zealand in *Dentice v Valuers Registration Board*³.
- [3] Disciplinary action under the Act is not designed to redress issues or disputes between a complainant and a Respondent. In *McLanahan and Tan v The New Zealand Registered Architects Board*⁴ Collins J. noted that:
- “... the disciplinary process does not exist to appease those who are dissatisfied The disciplinary process ... exists to ensure professional standards are maintained in order to protect clients, the profession and the broader community.”*
- [4] The Board can only inquire into “the conduct of a licensed building practitioner” with respect to the grounds for discipline set out in section 317 of the Act. It does not have any jurisdiction over contractual matters.

¹ The resolution was made following the Board’s consideration of a report prepared by the Registrar in accordance with the Complaints Regulations.

Evidence

- [5] The Board must be satisfied on the balance of probabilities that the disciplinary offences alleged have been committed⁵. Under section 322 of the Act the Board has relaxed rules of evidence which allow it to receive evidence that may not be admissible in a court of law.
- [6] The Complaint alleged the Respondent had failed to provide a record of work on completion of restricted building work.
- [7] The Board, in considering the matter, reviewed the location of the build and obtained further information about the type of building in question. The Board's inquiries show that the build was commercial in nature. Inquiries included a google street view of the building, a valuation search which lists the land category as "business" and a property sale listing describing the property as:

Nearing completion is this brand new quality warehouse/office premises situated on [Omitted]. Advantaged by a clear span sprinklered warehouse, quality showroom and first floor office space. Complemented with air conditioning, great amenity and 7 car parks this property will suit a number of businesses.

Board's Conclusion and Reasoning

- [8] The Board has decided that the Respondent has not failed, without good reason, in respect of a building consent that relates to restricted building work that he or she is to carry out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervise, or has carried out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervised, (as the case may be), to provide the persons specified in section 88(2) with a record of work, on completion of the restricted building work, in accordance with section 88(1) (s 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act) and should not be disciplined.
- [9] The Board has made the above finding on the basis that the building work was not restricted building work.
- [10] Restricted building work is established by section 401B of the Act. It allows building work to be declared as restricted building work by Order in Council⁶.

⁵ Z v Dental Complaints Assessment Committee [2009] 1 NZLR 1

⁶ 401B Order in Council declaring work to be restricted building work

- (1) The Governor-General may, by Order in Council made on the recommendation of the Minister, declare any kind of building work (other than building work for which a building consent is not required) or any kind of design work to be restricted building work.
- (2) An order under subsection (1) may apply to any kind of building work or design work generally, or may apply to building work or design work in relation to particular types or categories of buildings or to particular parts of buildings.
- (3) The Minister may recommend the making of an order under this section only if the Minister is satisfied that the kind of building work or design work in question is (or is likely to be) critical to the integrity of a building or part of a building.

[11] The Building (Definition of Restricted Building Work) Order 2011 was passed to establish restricted building work. Clause 5 of the Order stipulates:

- 5 Certain building work relating to primary structure or external moisture-management systems of residential buildings to be restricted building work
- (1) The kinds of building work to which this clause applies are restricted building work for the purposes of the Act.
- (2) This clause applies to building work that is—
- (a) the construction or alteration of—
- (i) the primary structure of a house or a small-to-medium apartment building; or
- (ii) the external moisture-management system of a house or a small-to-medium apartment building; and
- (b) of a kind described in subclause (3); and
- (c) of a kind for which a licensing class to carry out or supervise the work has been designated by Order in Council under section 285 of the Act.
- (3) The kinds of building work referred to in subclause (2)(b) are—
- (a) bricklaying or blocklaying work;
- (b) carpentry work;
- (c) external plastering work;
- (d) foundations work;
- (e) roofing work.

[12] The element that has not been satisfied in the above definition is that the building work must relate to the construction or alteration of the primary structure or the external moisture-management system of a house or a small-to-medium apartment building. The Board has reached this decision on the basis of the definitions provided in clause 3 of the Order. The specific definitions of relevance are:

house means a free-standing, fully detached building consisting of a single residential unit (or a single residential unit and 1 or more residential facilities)

household unit—

- (a) means a building or group of buildings, or part of a building or group of buildings, used or intended to be used solely or principally for residential purposes and occupied or intended to be occupied exclusively as the home or residence of not more than 1 household; but

(4) Building work or design work is not restricted building work if it relates to an application for a building consent made before the commencement of an order under subsection (1) declaring building work or design work of the same kind to be restricted building work.

(b) does not include a hostel or boardinghouse, or other specialised accommodation residential facility means a part of a building that is not a residential unit, but is a facility (for example a corridor, foyer, garage, laundry, lift, sauna, or storage unit) whose principal or only purpose is ancillary to the use of a residential unit in the building (or 2 or more residential units in the building)

residential unit means a building, or part of a building, that is so designed that it is more suitable for being lived in by a single household or family than for any other use

- [13] The building in question did not come within any of the above definitions and as such the building work carried out and completed was not “restricted building work” as defined. Accordingly there was no requirement under section 88 of the Act to provide a record of work and the Respondent has not committed a disciplinary offence.
