Summary of the Board’s Final Decision

- [1] The Respondent failed to provide a record of work on completion of restricted building work. He is fined $1,500 and ordered to pay costs of $500.

The Charges

- [2] On 26 May 2021, the Board received a Registrar’s Report in respect of a complaint about the conduct of the Respondent.
- [3] Under regulation 10 of the Complaints Regulations, the Board must, on receipt of the Registrar’s Report, decide whether to proceed no further with the complaint because regulation 9 of the Complaints Regulations applies. The Registrar recommended that regulation 9 applied.
- [4] Having received the report, the Board decided that regulation 9 applied to aspects of the complaint but not to all of the allegations.

Regulation 9 Decisions

- [5] The complaint to the Board also contained allegations that the Respondent had carried out or supervised building work or building inspection work in a negligent or incompetent manner (s 317(1)(b) of the Act).
- [6] With regard to those allegations, the Board decided that regulation 9(f)(ii) of the Complaints Regulations applied. It provides:

Complaint not warranting further investigation

A complaint does not warrant further investigation if—

- (f) the investigation of it is—*
- (ii) unnecessary;*

- [7] The Board noted that the matter complained about under section 317(1)(b) were mainly contractual in nature. The does not have jurisdiction as regards such matters. Furthermore, in considering whether the investigation of a complaint is necessary, the Board is required to consider the directions of the courts as regards the threshold for matters to be dealt with as a disciplinary matter. In Collie v Nursing Council of New Zealand<sup>1</sup>, Justice Gendall stated, as regards the threshold for disciplinary matters:

[21] Negligence or malpractice may or may not be sufficient to constitute professional misconduct and the guide must be standards applicable by competent, ethical and responsible practitioners and there must be behaviour which falls seriously short of that which is to be considered acceptable and not mere inadvertent error, oversight or for that matter carelessness.

- [8] Again, in Pillai v Messiter (No 2),<sup>2</sup> the Court of Appeal stated:

... the statutory test is not met by mere professional incompetence or by deficiencies in the practice of the profession. Something more is required. It includes a deliberate departure from accepted standards or such serious negligence as, although not deliberate, to portray indifference and an abuse.

- [9] It is on the basis of the above matters and the facts as presented in the complaint and response that the Board has decided that it will not proceed with the allegations of negligence or incompetence.

Disciplinary Offence to be Investigated

- [10] On the basis of the Registrar's Report, the Respondent's conduct that the Board resolved to investigate was that the Respondent had failed, without good reason, in respect of a building consent that relates to restricted building work that he or she is to carry out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervise, or has carried out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervised, (as the case may be), to provide the persons specified in section 88(2) with a record of work, on completion of the restricted building work, in accordance with section 88(1) (s 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act).

- [11] Under regulation 10, the Board is required to hold a hearing in respect of that matter.

Draft Decision Process

- [12] The Board's jurisdiction is that of an inquiry. Complaints are not prosecuted before the Board. Rather, it is for the Board to carry out any further investigation that it considers is necessary prior to it making a decision. In this respect, the Act provides that the Board may regulate its own procedures<sup>3</sup>. It has what is described as a summary jurisdiction in that the Board has a degree of flexibility in how it deals with matters; it retains an inherent jurisdiction beyond that set out in the enabling legislation<sup>4</sup>. As such, it may depart from its normal procedures if it considers doing so would achieve the purposes of the Act, and it is not contrary to the interests of natural justice to do so.
- [13] In this instance, the Board has decided that a formal hearing is not necessary. The Board considers that there is sufficient evidence before it to allow it to make a decision on the papers.
- [14] The Board does, however, note that there may be further evidence in the possession of persons involved in the matter or that the Board may not have interpreted the evidence correctly. To that end, this decision is a draft Board decision. The Complainant and the Respondent will be provided with an opportunity to comment on the Board's draft findings and to present further evidence prior to the Board making a final decision. If the Board directs or the Respondent requests an in-person hearing, then one will be scheduled.

Evidence

- [15] The Board must be satisfied on the balance of probabilities that the disciplinary offences alleged have been committed<sup>5</sup>. Under section 322 of the Act, the Board has relaxed rules of evidence that allow it to receive evidence that may not be admissible in a court of law.
- [16] The Respondent was engaged to carry out building work on an existing dwelling under a building consent at [Omitted]. The dwelling included a household unit. As such, the building work included restricted building work for which a record of work must be provided on completion. The Respondent's building work started in early February 2020 and came to an end on or about 6 October 2020. A record of work has not been provided.

- [17] The Complainant set out that enquires were made to obtain a record of work, but that one was not forthcoming. The Complainant received indications that the Respondent would provide a record of work, but he did not do so.
- [18] The Respondent replied to the complaint noting that he had not completed the job. He outlined the commercial dispute. He noted:

“... as for the ROW I’m not sure who he has gotten to finish of his job. I’m happy to outline the parts I have done under his instruction but I cannot tell you what’s happened when I left ...”

Draft Conclusion and Reasoning

- [19] The Board has decided that the Respondent has failed, without good reason, in respect of a building consent that relates to restricted building work that he or she is to carry out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervise, or has carried out (other than as an owner-builder) or supervised, (as the case may be), to provide the persons specified in section 88(2) with a record of work, on completion of the restricted building work, in accordance with section 88(1) (s 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act) and should be disciplined
- [20] There is a statutory requirement under section 88(1) of the Building Act 2004 for a licensed building practitioner to provide a record of work to the owner and the territorial authority on completion of restricted building work<sup>6</sup>.
- [21] Failing to provide a record of work is a ground for discipline under section 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act. In order to find that ground for discipline proven, the Board need only consider whether the Respondent had “good reason” for not providing a record of work on “completion” of the restricted building work.
- [22] The Board discussed issues with regard to records of work in its decision C2-01170<sup>7</sup> and gave guidelines to the profession as to who must provide a record of work, what a record of work is for, when it is to be provided, the level of detail that must be provided, who a record of work must be provided to and what might constitute a good reason for not providing a record of work.
- [23] The starting point with a record of work is that it is a mandatory statutory requirement whenever restricted building work under a building consent is carried out or supervised by a licensed building practitioner (other than as an owner-builder). Each and every licensed building practitioner who carries out restricted building work must provide a record of work.
- [24] The statutory provisions do not stipulate a timeframe for the licenced person to provide a record of work. The provisions in section 88(1) simply states “on completion of the restricted building work ...”. As was noted by Justice Muir in

Ministry of Business Innovation and Employment v Bell<sup>8</sup> “... the only relevant precondition to the obligations of a licenced building practitioner under s 88 is that he/she has completed their work”.

- [25] As to when completion will have occurred is a question of fact in each case.
- [26] In most situations’ issues with the provision of a record of work do not arise. The work progresses, and records of work are provided in a timely fashion. Completion occurred on or about 6 October 2020 as a result of a commercial dispute. The full scope of the building work had not been completed. A record of work has not been provided.
- [27] The Board has previously held that when the point in time arises where a licensed building practitioner is not able to carry out any further restricted building work, then a record of work will be due. That is what has occurred in this situation. The Respondent should have provided a record of work for the restricted building work that he had carried out or supervised up until the time that his involvement in the work came to an end. It should be noted that if a record of work was not required in such circumstances, then the obligation to provide one would never arise, and the purposes of the legislation, which is to create a permanent record of what each licensed building practitioner did or supervised, would be defeated.
- [28] On the basis of the above, the Board finds that the record of work was not provided on completion as required, and the disciplinary offence has been committed.
- [29] Section 317(1)(da)(ii) of the Act provides for a defence of the licenced building practitioner having a “good reason” for failing to provide a record of work. If they can, on the balance of probabilities, prove to the Board that one exists, then it is open to the Board to find that a disciplinary offence has not been committed. Each case will be decided by the Board on its own merits, but the threshold for a good reason is high. No good reasons have been put forward.
- [30] In this instance, there was an ongoing payment dispute. Whilst note stated as a reason why the record of work was not provided, the Board has repeatedly stated that a Record of Work is a statutory requirement, not a negotiable term of a contract. The requirement for it is not affected by the terms of a contract, nor by contractual disputes. Licensed building practitioners should now be aware of their obligations to provide them, and their provision should be a matter of routine.
- [31] The Respondent should also note that the requirement is on the licensed building practitioner to provide a record of work, not on the owner or territorial authority to demand one. He is required to act of his own accord and not wait for others to remind him of his obligations.

Draft Decision on Penalty, Costs and Publication

- [32] Having found that one or more of the grounds in section 317 applies, the Board must, under section 318 of the Act<sup>1</sup>, consider the appropriate disciplinary penalty, whether the Respondent should be ordered to pay any costs and whether the decision should be published.
- [33] The matter was dealt with on the papers. Included was information relevant to penalty, costs and publication, and the Board has decided to make indicative orders and give the Respondent an opportunity to provide further evidence or submissions relevant to the indicative orders.

Penalty

- [34] The purpose of professional discipline is to uphold the integrity of the profession; the focus is not punishment, but the enforcement of a high standard of propriety and professional conduct. The Board does note, however, that the High Court in Patel v Complaints Assessment Committee<sup>9</sup> commented on the role of “punishment” in giving penalty orders stating that punitive orders are, at times, necessary to provide a deterrent and to uphold professional standards. The Court noted:

[28] I therefore propose to proceed on the basis that, although the protection of the public is a very important consideration, nevertheless the issues of punishment and deterrence must also be taken into account in selecting the appropriate penalty to be imposed.

- [35] The Board also notes that in Lochhead v Ministry of Business Innovation and Employment,<sup>10</sup> the Court noted that whilst the statutory principles of sentencing set out in the Sentencing Act 2002 do not apply to the Building Act, they have the advantage of simplicity and transparency. The Court recommended adopting a starting point for a penalty based on the seriousness of the disciplinary offending prior to considering any aggravating and/or mitigating factors.
- [36] Record of work matters are at the lower end of the disciplinary scale. The Board’s normal starting point for a failure to provide a record of work is a fine of $1,500, an amount which it considers will deter others from such behaviour. There are no aggravating nor mitigating factors present. As such, the Board sees no reason to depart from the starting point. The fine is set at $1,500.

Costs

- [37] Under section 318(4) the Board may require the Respondent “to pay the costs and expenses of, and incidental to, the inquiry by the Board.”
- [38] The Respondent should note that the High Court has held that 50% of total reasonable costs should be taken as a starting point in disciplinary proceedings and that the percentage can then be adjusted up or down having regard to the particular circumstances of each case<sup>11</sup>.

- [39] In Collie v Nursing Council of New Zealand,<sup>12</sup> where the order for costs in the tribunal was 50% of actual costs and expenses, the High Court noted that:

But for an order for costs made against a practitioner, the profession is left to carry the financial burden of the disciplinary proceedings, and as a matter of policy that is not appropriate.

- [40] The Board notes the matter was dealt with on the papers. There has, however, been costs incurred investigating the matter, producing the Registrar's Report and in the Board making its decision. The costs have been less than those that would have been incurred had a full hearing been held. As such, the Board will order that costs of $500 be paid by the Respondent. The Board considers that this is a reasonable sum for the Respondent to pay toward the costs and expenses of, and incidental to, the inquiry by the Board.

Publication

- [41] As a consequence of its decision, the Respondent's name and the disciplinary outcomes will be recorded in the public register maintained as part of the Licensed Building Practitioners' scheme as is required by the Act<sup>13</sup>. The Board is also able, under section 318(5) of the Act, to order publication over and above the public register:

In addition to requiring the Registrar to notify in the register an action taken by the Board under this section, the Board may publicly notify the action in any other way it thinks fit.

- [42] As a general principle, such further public notification may be required where the Board perceives a need for the public and/or the profession to know of the findings of a disciplinary hearing. This is in addition to the Respondent being named in this decision.
- [43] Within New Zealand, there is a principle of open justice and open reporting which is enshrined in the Bill of Rights Act 1990<sup>14</sup>. The Criminal Procedure Act 2011 sets out grounds for suppression within the criminal jurisdiction<sup>15</sup>. Within the disciplinary hearing jurisdiction, the courts have stated that the provisions in the Criminal Procedure Act do not apply but can be instructive<sup>16</sup>. The High Court provided guidance as to the types of factors to be taken into consideration in N v Professional Conduct Committee of Medical Council<sup>17</sup>.

[44] The courts have also stated that an adverse finding in a disciplinary case usually requires that the name of the practitioner be published in the public interest<sup>18</sup>. It is, however, common practice in disciplinary proceedings to protect the names of other persons involved as naming them does not assist the public interest.

[45] Based on the above, the Board will not order further publication.

Draft Section 318 Order

[46] For the reasons set out above, the Board directs that:

Penalty: Pursuant to section 318(1)(f) of the Building Act 2004, the Respondent is ordered to pay a fine of $1,500.

Costs: Pursuant to section 318(4) of the Act, the Respondent is ordered to pay costs of $500 (GST included) towards the costs of, and incidental to, the inquiry of the Board.

Publication: The Registrar shall record the Board's action in the Register of Licensed Building Practitioners in accordance with section 301(I)(iii) of the Act.

In terms of section 318(5) of the Act, there will not be action taken to publicly notify the Board's action, except for the note in the Register and the Respondent being named in this decision.

[47] The Respondent should note that the Board may, under section 319 of the Act, suspend or cancel a licensed building practitioner's licence if fines or costs imposed as a result of disciplinary action are not paid.

Submissions on Draft Decision

[48] The Board invited the Respondent to:

- (a) provide further evidence for the Board to consider; and/or
- (b) make written submissions on the Board's findings. Submissions may be on the substantive findings and/or on the findings on penalty, costs and publication.

[49] Submissions and/or further evidence must be filed with the Board by no later than the close of business on 12 July 2021.

[50] If submissions are received, then the Board will meet and consider those submissions.

- [51] The Board may, on receipt of any of the material received, give notice that an in-person hearing is required prior to it making a final decision. Alternatively, the Board may proceed to make a final decision which will be issued in writing.
- [52] If no submissions or further evidence is received within the time frame specified, then this decision will become final.

Request for In-Person Hearing

- [53] If the Respondent, having received and considered the Board's Draft Decision, considers that an in-person hearing is required, then one will be scheduled, and a notice of hearing will be issued.
- [54] A request for an in-person hearing must be made in writing to the Board Officer no later than the close of business on 12 July 2021.
- [55] If a hearing is requested, this Draft Decision, including the Board's indicative position on penalty, costs and publication, will be set aside.

Submissions Made

- [56] The Board received a submission from the Respondent on 13 July 2021.
- [57] The submission outlined the circumstances of the restricted building work that he had carried out including that the Complaint was the owner and project manager of the build which came to a premature end. The Respondent noted:

I am aware that he (the owner) has been asking for the R.O.W however I had not finished the job and had nothing to do with the completion. I am willing to outline what I had done and have told [Omitted] this many times. Towards the end of my works on site I had no option but to walk away. There are a number of reasons I could not finish the job below are some examples.

- [58] The Respondent provided details of on-site issues. He stated:

I am not aware of who completed the project however I am happy to outline what I have done. I have told [Omitted] this many times and am still willing to comply. However he stopped answering calls and just reported me.

- [59] The Respondent acknowledged that the work had, most likely, been finished by someone else. He concluded his submission by stating:

I am not sure what to do in this situation as it is the first time I have been taken for a ride like this. I am still willing to do the R.O.W or list the parts I have done as I am responsible. So as I am writing this I have prepared a R.O.W for the job however I will call up the board as ask for some guidance as to what I shall I say.

Final Decision

- [60] The Respondent has not requested an in-person hearing, and has not put forward any good reasons as to why a record of work was not provided on completion of restricted building work. The only reasons put forward were that the full scope of work was not complete and that he was unsure as to what he should do in such circumstances.

- [61] The issue as regards completion has been dealt with in the summary of the law above. With respect to the Respondent being unaware of what to do, ignorance is not a defence. The Respondent, as a Licensed Building Practitioner, should be aware of his obligations. Moreover, the Ministry of Business Innovation and Employment and the Board have gone to extensive lengths to educate Licensed Building Practitioners on those obligations. Included in this, has been compulsory continuing professional development exercises with respect to record of work obligations. Given these factors, the Respondent should be aware of what he was required to do. It is further noted that the Respondent took no steps to educate himself or to make enquiries as to what he was supposed to do. Had he done so, he could have had recourse to online materials as well as a contact centre that can provide assistance.
- [62] As there are no new mitigating factors present, and given the above, the Board affirms its draft decision and penalty.

Final Section 318 Order

- [63] For the reasons set out above, the Board directs that:

Penalty: Pursuant to section 318(1)(f) of the Building Act 2004, the Respondent is ordered to pay a fine of $1,500.

Costs: Pursuant to section 318(4) of the Act, the Respondent is ordered to pay costs of $500 (GST included) towards the costs of, and incidental to, the inquiry of the Board.

Publication: The Registrar shall record the Board's action in the Register of Licensed Building Practitioners in accordance with section 301(l)(iii) of the Act.

In terms of section 318(5) of the Act, there will not be action taken to publicly notify the Board's action, except for the note in the Register and the Respondent being named in this decision.

Right of Appeal

- [64] The right to appeal Board decisions is provided for in section 330(2) of the Act<sup>ii</sup>.
